FAQs

Is there still going to be a fair? Should I purchase animals?
As of right now, fair is still scheduled to happen but like many things, we just don’t know. The advice of Extension and K-State is: When it comes to purchasing animals, you need to make a family decision. K-State recommends doing a risk assessment and asking the question: “Are we okay if we purchase animals and fair doesn’t happen this year?”

What is going to happen with weigh-in and animal tagging?
This is a question we hope to have more clarity on in a few days. K-State is aware that this is a concern and is working to find a solution or at least guidance to help us. It is possible that deadlines will have to be adjusted to accommodate. We will notify you when we have more information.

What about our community club and project meetings?
Right now, no face-to-face meetings are allowed to take place. This doesn’t mean we can’t get creative. Leaders, if your club would like to meet virtually, I (Sonya Murphy, Agent 4-H Youth Development) have access to set up a zoom meeting for you. This is unconventional but at this point we need to be innovative on how 4-H and project learning occurs. This offer is also open to any committee that would like to meet. Let me know when and what time you want to have the meeting. I will get you set up and help you send a link out for the meeting.

Are camps still going to take place this summer?
As of right now, all camps (such as Discovery Days, Campference and County 4-H Camp at Rock Springs) are scheduled to take place. If they would have to be cancelled, there will be refunds available for Discovery Days, and most likely for Campference and County Camp. (After a call on 3/20/20, we will have more clarity how refunds will work for County Camp if we have to cancel.)
